Relief, it's just a dip away

Swimming lessons at Hilltop Pools and Spas in West Paris concluded Friday under the direction of instructor Ellie Kingsbury. Kids from ages 3 through 17 participated in classes ranging from beginner to pre-lifeguarding. Here, Jason Henderson, 11, practices the backfloat in one of the beginner classes. Most area residents haven't needed swim lessons to get them into the pool or a pond lately — the 90-degree heat and accompanying humidity have provided more than enough motivation.

Friday downpours erode local roads

By ALISON ALOISIO

Casual weather watchers in the Bethel area could hardly believe their eyes Friday when they checked their rain gauges.

Or just looked out their windows.

Water poured from the sky for several hours. Mike Hoeh in Albany measured 5.9 inches, while Don Bennett in Bethel recorded 3.5.

Readings of more than 5 inches were also reported in the Woodstock/Greenwood area.

Wendy Hanscom of Newry was kayaking on Songo Pond with her family during the deluge.

They decided they'd had enough and headed for the boat landing near Baker Road.

As they pulled their craft out, the runoff pouring into the pond from the road was so heavy that Hanscom's husband, Brian, said they could probably kayak the "whitewater."

Chamber responds to critical petition with call for a membership meeting, vote

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Board of Directors of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce is asking members for a vote of confidence.

The move comes after the board received a petition charging that the chamber is supporting activities that favor tourism and retail businesses "at the expense of many contractors, developers, land owners, realtors and people in the farming and timber industries."

Petition charges chamber activities promote tourism and retail to the detriment of landowners, and timber, farming, contracting and development businesses.

In response, the directors have asked fellow members to show up for a special closed meeting on Aug. 23, where they will be asked to "weigh in" on "a few key issues," including the accusations raised in the petition.

The members will then be asked to vote up or down on whether they "support the Board of Directors in their pursuit of the present and future community dialogue on what we deem as important economic-development initiatives."

Those initiatives include the National Scenic Byway campaign, the Mahoosuc Regional Resource Report, and the discussion of a possible Maine Mountain National Heritage Area designation.

Petition

The petition prompting the meeting was signed by 173 individuals, including 15 of the chamber's approximately 250 business members.

The petition charged that the chamber's "support" of the development initiatives will lead to "further layers of bureaucracy and regulations

Facility for abused boys closes after eight years

By ALISON ALOISIO

Western Maine Academy in Woodstock, a residential treatment program for abused boys, will close its doors on Aug. 15.

School officials cited state funding cuts as the reason for the shutdown. The 12-bed facility has operated for eight years, according to a press release.

Lynette Carver, human resources manager for WMA, said more than three dozen boys ranging in age from 10 to 17, had been served during that time.

She said the boys, who came from across the state, all had some sort of trauma in their background.

An average stay ranged from 18 to 24 months, she said.

"We provided them with formal education and intensive

G'wood park ready, but for a name

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The new park on the Greenwood Road is now open, providing local residents and visitors with the opportunity to get some healthful exercise and enjoy panoramic views of North, South, and Twitchell ponds, Bucks Ledge and Mt. Abram.

But a problem remains — what to call the park?

Over the last two years, while the facility was a work in progress, it was referred to simply as "Maggie Ring Park"

But Maggie Ring, who sold the town (for well under market value) the 84 acres that make up the park, was promised naming rights, and she now says she would prefer "Maggie's Mountain Park."

Not a good idea, said Greenwood historian Blaine Mills, who cleared and blazed the park's trails.

The name of the park's highest (1,100 feet) spot is "Peaked Mountain," Mills said, so "Maggie's Mountain Park" would be inaccurate and misleading.

A small rise below Peaked Mountain is known as "Ring Hill," Mills said, "but there's no way you could call that a mountain." "If they want to call it 'Maggie's Hill Park' that would be alright," Mills said.

But personally, he would prefer something

Newry tax rate drops

By ALISON ALOISIO

Newry selectmen Monday set the town's mill rate at 7.8, down half a mill from last year.

The rate will provide $46,000 in overlay, an amount the selectmen deemed sufficient.

They said they didn't want to accumulate too much overlay money, because Newry has $1.6 million in surplus that it's trying to spend down.

That's about twice what the town's auditor recommends as a minimum, they said.

Newry's share of the SAD44 budget declined this year by about $82,000, administrative assistant Loretta Powers said, while the municipal budget went up a similar amount.

But the town also took $125,000 from surplus to reduce taxes.

Roof project

Selectmen also discussed plans to fix the leaking roof at the Sunday River Fire Station.

They recently received an estimate of $14,687 to put on a new metal roof, ridge cap and trim, and seal joints, Powers said.

Another estimate, of $27,000, called for entirely replacing the roof, she said.

The selectmen hope the roof work can be done this fall.

Because only $8,000 has been set aside for the project in the Fire Department budget, a special Town Meeting would be needed to approve more funds from surplus.

TELSTAR GLASS PROJECT

Ten youngsters in the Mahoosuc Kids Association summer program at Telstar Middle School last week completed a glass mosaic project that will hang in the school's office. TMS art teacher Melissa Prescott created the design. It superimposes the T-star school logo over a replica of a section of the model of the Telstar satellite. The kids broke colored glass into pieces and then carefully attached them, using grout, to the sketched-out design. "It's like paint-by-number," said Brie Wiesman, TMS site coordinator for MKA. Ella Bishop, a summer resident of Newry, is a member of the group. "I've met some new people, made a few friends and been able to help out," she said. "We're doing it for the school. I hope the kids will appreciate what we've done." Weisman said several of the kids particularly enjoyed breaking the glass. While they learned to do it safely, handling the broken pieces did have its risks. Kurt Mason of Bethel displayed nine tiny glass cuts he acquired during the work. Pictured here are, from left: Mason, Brody Brackett, Nicholas Mills, Parker Driscoll and Brooke Hutchins. Other kids participating in the project were Shawn Kneeland, Michael Black, Ethan Phelps, and Gabrielle Conrad.

FESTIVAL STARTS WEDNESDAY

To the Editor:

Next Wednesday, Aug. 9, the curtain goes up on the inaugural season of the Maine Performing Arts Festival right here in Bethel, Maine!

The actors arrived last Friday and received the full brunt of typical Bethel hospitality. Many in our community have offered housing and sustenance for this great group of thespians and the Festival's Artistic Director, Andrew Harris. Word has come back from this group that wherever they've visited, eaten or gotten together for some evening socializing, they've received stellar treatment from everyone in town. That's wonderful news to those of us who have been planning and working hard to bring off the first of what we hope will be many summer seasons.

The action starts Wednesday night at 7:30 in Gould Academy's Bingham Auditorium with the opening of Carlo Goldoni's Servant of Two Masters, an Italian slapstick farce that will keep everyone laughing. The following four days will showcase two plays daily and street performers (buskers) starting at 11 a.m. and running through the early evening. These talented performers come from all over the U.S. and are here hoping to entertain everyone who drops by their respective pitches. Reminiscent of the old English Hat Fairs, buskers receive remuneration from those who stop and enjoy their talents in the form of "gifts" dropped in hats in front of their pitches.

All of us hope that the folks in Bethel and visitors who are here for the festival will be generous and appreciative in this regard since these performers are not being otherwise significantly compensated.

All that said, we look forward to an exciting four days during which we have no idea who and how many will show up for this first season. Sunday River Ski Resort's Public Relations department has done great work in getting the word out on the Festival from Maine through New England and New York, so we could have lots of folks in town. We hope many of the citizens of SAD44 will enjoy the offerings along with our guests from out of town.

Please take a look at the Festival's website (www.mainepaf.com) to see the full schedule of events.

Thanks in advance to all those wonderful Bethel citizens who have made the performers feel so welcome.

To the Editor:

Due to other commitments the Albany Improvement Association's annual meeting will be held on Sunday, Aug. 13, at 6 p.m. instead of the previously planned date of Aug. 6. The agenda for the meeting will consist of election of a Board of Directors as well as updates from various committees. In order to vote residents of Albany will need to pay the $3 membership fee for 2006-2007. The meeting will be held at the Albany Town Hall.

Also, the Albany Improvement Association will be holding its summer yard sale on Saturday, Aug. 12, beginning at 9 a.m. No early birds please. As usual, we are still in need of items for the yard sale. To donate, call Buzzy Lapham at 824-2568.

Hope we see everyone at the yard sale and meeting.

OVERWHELMING SUPPORT

To the Editor:

I just returned from my initial visit to Indiana where I have had preparations done for my upcoming Proton Radiation Therapy treatments. This would not have been possible without the overwhelming support from the surrounding communities and the wonderful benefit supper many of you attended.

I would like to thank everyone, including the area businesses, who made donations and contributed food and raffle items. A very special thank you goes to my friend, Diane Mitchell, the organizer, her team of volunteers and several of my high school friends who gave their time to put on such a heartwarming event.

I would also like to thank those who couldn't attend but have given their support in other ways, including meals, cards, hugs and the caring and concern for my family. Although I still have a ways to go, please know that I will be comforted by the two prayer shawls and buttons many of you sent. I hope you will continue to keep us in your thoughts and prayers and be "the wind beneath my wings".

THANKS, STATE CREW

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the state highway crewmembers who fixed the driveway on the property of Wendy and Ann Cross on Route 5 in Bethel recently.

This spring, water washed away part of the driveway, making it difficult to drive in. We mentioned the problem to a highway worker who was part of crew doing routine work on Route 5. The next day it was fixed.

Again, we express our appreciation for the prompt response.

Irene Anderson, Albany; Wendy and Ann Cross, Bethel

WIND FARM IS PROGRESSIVE ACTION

To the Editor:

All living beings on earth from the smallest units of life as we know it (bacteria), to the largest mammals (whales) and giant trees (redwoods that transmute toxins in our atmosphere), depend on the cooperation of all aspects of the unified web of nature for survival. Nature is endlessly repeating truths about what is required to sustain the interconnected ecological systems that function dynamically through the interaction of the four elements: air, water, earth and fire.

Today, the very real and urgent need to develop alternative energy sources and to capture natural sources of energy is not only upon us, it's past due. The world's supplies of fossil fuels being tapped at unprecedented rates to feed our culture's out-of-control energy demands will become depleted and vanish sooner than we believe — much like the global warming/greenhouse effects that started coming to public attention in the 1980s. The toxic pollution laden atmosphere we breathe is increasingly contributing to spiraling health problems of individuals statewide, in the Northeast, nationwide, and globally. The cascading effects of atmospheric pollution are disrupting weather patterns and seasonal cycles everywhere food is grown in our country and countries on all continents. What will it take for us to see, to hear the messages nature presents all around us to finally act?

Now, here, in Maine, we are faced with a one-time opportunity and poised to make a critical choice that ultimately benefits all. Will politicians, legislators, environmental organizations, and powerful interest groups in the region including the Natural Resource Council of Maine (NRCM), the California-based Edison Mission Group, Maine Mountain Power, Endless Energy, Maine Audubon, the Appalachian Trail Conservancy, the Appalachian Mountain Club, the Maine Appalachian Trail Club, the Conservation Law Foundation, Trans-Canada, and consulting firms such as Woodlot Alternatives, Inc. and Savvy Marketing present their competing powers and interests in honest testimony at the public hearing for the Redington wind farm project held at Carrabassett Valley this week? Will cross-examination of the biases of interveners be fair? When the public has their last chance to speak and the public hearing closes Friday, Aug. 4; and when the hearing record that remains open to allow interested persons to file written statements with the commission is closed Aug. 14; and when the following rebuttals are accepted no later than Aug. 21, what will be the final outcome?

Will the Land Use Regulation Commission (LURC)'s panel, made up of seven members that function as the zoning and planning board for the state's unorganized townships, ultimately and responsibly recognize the messages before it's too late, and decide re-zoning the Redington Pond Range and Black Nubble mountain parcels is in Maine's best interest? In choosing to exercise its informed wisdom and most expansive perspective in the consideration of the greatest common/collective good, LURC would be giving approval to the proposed Redington wind farm project, empowering Maine to join other states like Vermont, Upstate New York, California, Texas, and elsewhere in our country that take exemplary progressive action to be proud of. It is for this vision of our future that I sound my powerless individual voice to hopefully affect change and possibility in the powerful arena of developing alternative energy sources that capture natural energy in the hope that it will be heard.

REMEMBERING PHYLLIS K. COOLIDGE

To the Editor:

Permit me, sir, these lines to say a few words about Phyllis Kimball Coolidge, that those among your readership who did not know her may share a little insight of a well-spent life of public service to the town of Greenwood.

While one could describe Phyllis in a few ways, "the plumber's daughter, the store owner's wife, a great mother, and grandmother," she was far more than any of those descriptors.

While at the helm of the Greenwood Town Office, she was an excellent record keeper, exceptional clerk and observer of the current town events. She and Denise Swan not only the eyes for the regulation and the "right way" to run the Town Office, they both had a keen interest and understanding of who Town of Greenwood was and what we ought to become in the years approaching.

Phyllis was a great believer in the Benjamin Franklin theory "that a community or nation is judged by how it treats its dead." She was concerned that the records of the burial yards in Greenwood and Mt. Abram cemeteries were complete and well documented. She helped in those years of restoring the burial stones and in getting all the town lots and burial grounds surveyed under the careful and exacting eye of the late Curt Martin, hometown boy and outstanding land surveyor. Phyllis was respectful of her elders, embracing their knowledge taking good note so that facts and details would not be lost in years to come. Deep interest in history led Phyllis with others to found the Greenwood Historical Society, thereby saving the Swan house on Main Street, building the collection and developing the Swan house into a nice, small house museum. It was mostly through her friendship and direct way in the early days of the Historical Society that we were able to interest and obtain the assistance of the late Gene Jalbert, a retired general contractor and his wonderful son to help raise the roof of the Swan house. Making the building more aesthetically pleasing and giving us badly needed storage space. The Jalberts had the knowledge, equipment and skill. Phyllis talked them into helping us without any charge whatsoever for the construction undertaking. That was a grand day of labor indeed.

Phyllis was no saint. There are few saints in this life and probably fewer in the next life to come. She had a decided opinion and sharp tongue. She was quick to point out that things were not being done the right way — that usually meant her way! In retrospect, most times it turned out way down the road that her way was in fact the right way, others of us with less vision just were not able to always see that at the outset.

She was a loyal, faithful friend. She followed through, never leaving a friend or a started project hanging. Some of my fondest memories are working for her at the Greenwood Town Office the summer of 1979 just after graduating from college. Phyllis, Denise and Herb Dunham were all concerned that the town's vital records and meeting records should be inventoried, examined, microfilmed and preserved for the next generation. There were hitches and some holdup but we got that project done and well done.

She and Herb used to have their "go rounds," as I called them, but they had a deep mutual respect and underlying shared concern for the "Good of the Town." There was never a hidden agenda in their management and administration of the town office.

Phyllis was the last in a long succession of Greenwood town clerks in the persons of Rowena Ring Dunham (Mrs. R. Clyde), Mark Lapham, Enoch Cordwell and others. She being the last town clerk under the former system of non-manager town government.

Thus as with all of us eventually, her life came to an end, not a long life, but one that was engaged, busy, well-spent and honorable, built on family, friendship and service, making the community that she lived in a better place for the "Common Good." Phyllis leaves behind a wonderful mother, Jeannette Kimball, her husband, Bob, and their two beautiful daughters, Lee Ann and Beth, children not unlike herself.

Well done good and faithful servant. Enter now into the Good Peaceful Rest so well deserved.

A friend and Greenwood hometown boy

THANK YOU BETHEL, AND CHAPMAN HILL

To the Editor:

Bethel is a lovely quaint community, nestled in the foothills of the mountains of western Maine and New Hampshire. Entering the community by car one observes that its beauty speaks for itself, but the observer knows nothing about its people. We do, because my mother, Faith Brown, was a longtime resident of Chapman Street. On July 19 my mother passed away at Market Square Health Facility in South Paris, where she had resided for the last five years.

When the children of a parent does not live in the community where their parent resides and their health becomes delicate to say the least, and that parent remains determined to live in their home, matters become difficult for the family. This scenario is well documented for many through news stories and television all over the country. However, our difficulty was made easier and sweeter by the goodness of the Bethel community. Good people like Bob and Ginny Kenniston, Bud and Mary Paine, and Rachel and Blake MacKay, gave unselfishly of their time to help my mother stay in her home. Businesses in town like Brooks Brothers, the local grocery store and Maine Gas responded to calls of help and assistance to an elderly, delicate lady with respect and honesty. The ladies of the Methodist Church stopped in to visit and console. Many others, too many to mention, helped warm our hearts with their caring. That caring even extended to her residence at the nursing home with visits and gifts. So my sister and I want to say thank you Bethel, Maine and Chapman Hill neighborhood. Bethel is a wonderful place to live.

Vivian Brown Howard, Bridgton; Julia Brown Bennett, Northfield, Vt.

PROPANE LEAK THANKS

To the Editor:

Our most profound thanks to Al Curtis, Gerry Kostovick, Jeff Harren and other members of the Greenwood Fire Department. A gas alarm sounded when we were away this weekend. Members of the Department responded in the middle of the night and spent several hours, shutting off fuel sources and trying to figure out how to gain access without damaging our home. When we arrived the next day a contingent of Fire Department officers was waiting for us to prevent our entering a potentially dangerous situation. With the utmost courtesy and professionalism they accompanied us to the house and entered first. They identified a possible source of the problem and gave us instructions on how to proceed. We are most grateful for their help.

Thanks also to Mark Gorham of Community Energy who came swiftly Saturday evening, checked all propane hook-ups and identified a leak at the clothes dryer. He, too, was polite, thorough and professional.

Our wonderful neighbors, Jim and Sylvia Tonolini and Charlie Reiss must also be thanked. When the alarm sounded they did what they could to help. We are grateful to the Greenwood Fire Department, our reliable fuel company and our neighbors who helped prevent what could have been a serious accident.

Hiker rescued from Baldpate

GRAFTON—An injured hiker from Connecticut was rescued by helicopter Saturday morning from Baldpate Mountain. Scott Ogden, 17, of Colchester, Conn. hurt his ankle Friday afternoon and could not hike down. Game wardens and rescue and fire personnel from Newry and Bethel hiked to Ogden's location, in the saddle of the mountain. Two wardens and Newry Fire Chief Gary Wight and Bethel Rescue's David Hanscom stayed the night with the Ogden. At about 10 a.m. Saturday morning, a Maine Army National Guard helicopter landed about 50 yards from their location, Wight said. The helicopter arrived in the area initially just before 8 a.m., he said, but it had to wait until later to land on the mountain because of fog. Ogden was treated and released at Rumford Community Hospital.

all of which have a negative impact on many businesses in the Chamber membership area."

"It is unacceptable," the petition said, "for the Chamber to promote initiatives, including social and/or environmental agendas that have a negative impact on certain businesses in the community for the benefit of other business in the community."

'At a crossroads'

The chamber directors announced the Aug. 23 meeting in a two-page letter to members last week.

"The Chamber is at a crossroads," the letter said. "We are trying to discern if our membership feels it is important to continue the discussion regarding the future of this community and sustainable commerce."

The letter referred directly to the three economic-development initiatives, saying: "The Chamber Board believes that these initiatives may have the potential to benefit our business community in its entirety."

But the letter described the organization's involvement with the initiatives in terms that were more balanced and detailed than the description in the petition — which simply referred to the chamber's "support" of the inititives.

"We have been engaged in an information gathering and community dialogue effort in keeping with our goal of long-term commerce improvement," the letter said.

"The activities have involved discussions of increasing traffic to the area, historical and recreational preservation and land use. As you know, we have hosted roundtable discussions and listening groups and brought speakers to inform various points of view. This has prompted a negative reaction by some developers and others concerned about government regulation and private property rights."

Mandate sought

According to the letter, future board actions will be based on whatever mandate is developed by a majority of members at the Aug. 23 meeting.

Park

along the lines of "Maggie Ring's Nature Preserve."

The Greenwood Board of Selectmen took up the question at their regular meeting Tuesday — and the number (and length) of possible name continued to grow.

Their suggestions: "Maggie Ring's Peaked Mountain Park" (Fred Henderson) or perhaps, "Maggie Ring's Mountain and Trails Park" (Wayne Hakala).

"Too wordy," said Board Chair Loretta Mikols. "I think we ought to call it what that dear, sweet woman wants to call it."

Eventually it was decided to talk again with Ring and Mills and try to come up with a mutually agreeable name.

Ready to be enjoyed

Whatever it ends up being called, the park is now there for all to enjoy.

It is located across the Greenwood Road from South Pond, approximately 1.4 miles south of Howe Hill Road.

A new parking lot there can hold up to seven cars. Two trailheads start from the parking lot, one to Ring Hill, the second to Peaked Mountain.

The Ring Hill loop takes about an hour to hike, Mills said, and the Peaked Mountain loop, about two hours.

There are also several bypasses and spurs, all of which, like the main trails, have color-coded blazes.

Maps will soon be available at the trailheads, Mills said.

In the meantime maps can be had at the Greenwood Town Office in Locke Mills (just beyond Mahoosuc Mountain Sports).

A limited number of maps will also be available by Friday at the sports shop, the Round Pond Corner Store in Locke Mills and The Citizen office on Main Street in Bethel.

The Citizen also hopes to have .pdf files available. E-mail requests to news@bethelcitizen.com, subject: park map.

Roads

DIGGING BACK—An excavator from Cross Excavation works Saturday morning to repair a culvert on the Gore Road in Bethel. The culvert was one of several in the area damaged by Friday's heavy rains. (Photo: M. Daniels)

The fast-moving waters ate away at area roads.

On Vernon Street in Greenwood, a flooding stream forced small boulders into a culvert, plugging it. The water then flowed over the road, carrying logs with it.

Observers could hear the rocks in the stream bouncing off each other as they were pushed downstream.

In Woodstock and Bethel, pavement on the Gore Road washed away in two places. In one location, a four-foot width of pavement over a culvert washed away all the way across the road, according to Vern Maxfield, Woodstock's town manager.

The town's road crew filled in the gap that evening, Maxfield said.

But the road remained closed through the night, because of another large gap in the pavement, located in Bethel.

Maxfield said one travel lane was gone for a distance of about two car lengths.

It was repaired the next morning and the road reopened.

"About half to three-quarters of a mile of the road was hit hard," said Maxfield.

Shagg and Concord pond roads and Rumford Avenue were closed for a time as well.

There were several culvert washouts on Route 232 and on the East Bethel Road, said Brian Mitchell of the Maine Department of Transportation.

Roadside ditches also eroded and undermined pavement edges in many places.

WMA

clinical treatment," said Carver.

The school also provided a variety of activities, such as mountain biking, ski programs and day trips to Boston and Portland, she said.

The school employed two dozen staff members. That dwindled to around a dozen this year, as the number of boys dropped to about four, said Carver.

She said that over the past two years the number of referrals from the state has dwindled, and by this spring it became apparent the school would not have enough of a clientele to continue.

The state has also cut back its referrals to other small residential facilities in Maine, said Carver. Most referrals are now going to large facilities.

WMA is operated by Western Maine Assessment in Rumford, which is owned by Armand and Katy Madore.

That company will continue in operation.

Eight years ago, when it was first announced WMA would open, some of the school's neighbors expressed concerns about the safety of having troubled boys living in their midst.

But, reports Woodstock Town Manager Vern Maxfield, he has had no reports of problems during the time the school has operated.

Katy Madore said in the WMA release, "We are very proud of the work we have all accomplished, but the state of Maine has reduced children's services due to budget constraints. We have seen broken hearts mend while these boys have learned discipline and self-respect.

"Many programs like ours are closing in the state due to financial issues. Although we are sad to see our dream come to a close, we are happy to know we have had the opportunity to care for many boys."

MSAD#44 is in the process of screening all its students to determine needs for gifted programming in the 2006-2007 school year.

The district's state-approved gifted plan identifies children at or above the 98th percentile on nationally normed assessments or exceeding standards on the Maine Educational Assessment as possibly qualifying for specialized programming, instruction, or curriculum to meet their academic requirements. Such programming will be planned by a team of school personnel, the parent, and child (if appropriate) and carried out by the regular classroom teacher through differentiated instruction or curriculum. While other academic opportunities may exist, the district does not promote providing services through a pull-out program. Additional information or clarification of a child's eligibility is available through the building principals.

GREENWOOD & WOODSTOCK YOUTH FOOTBALL REGISTRATION

Area youth entering grades 3 through 8 this coming fall who are interested in youth football may now register for their respective teams. Registration for the Greenwood Spartans (grades 3 through 6) may be done at the Greenwood Town Office and for the Woodstock Wolfpack (grades 7 and 8) please go to the Woodstock Town Office.

Registration fees and uniform fees are the same for both sets of teams: a $25 registration and equipment reconditioning fee (includes team t-shirt) and a $50 uniform fee which is for the game jersey and game pants which the players keep when the season is over. All other uniform and equipment items are provided by Greenwood Regional Youth Football and Woodstock Youth Football respectively.

Practice schedules will be announced when the youth league sets the final playing schedule, however practice will commence during August.

The Greenwood Spartans are allowed 15 practice sessions before their first game, but once school starts they are limited to only 4 hours of practice per week (league rules), so before this they will have practice Mondays through Thursdays for 2 hours per session from 5 to 7 in the afternoon at the Greenwood ball field on Howe Hill Road. Also, the Spartans are divided into two age groups which are a 3rd and 4th grade team and a 5th and 6th grade team.

The Woodstock Wolfpack (7th and 8th grade) will be playing a multiple scrimmage format likely against the middle school junior varsity teams from Mountain Valley and Oxford Hills with a possible game to end the season against a future class 'C' foe in the region. This will facilitate a controlled learning environment to help our players acquire knowledge of the game and start developing needed skills that other football programs have already achieved. A meeting will occur in the first part of August to give parents a chance to meet the coaches, hear more details and ask questions. Please leave your name and a number where you can be reached at the Woodstock town office and you will be contacted when plans for the meeting are finalized. The practice format for the Wolfpack will be the same as for the Spartans with the exception that they will practice 4 times per week even after school starts, but for 1.5 hour sessions instead of 2 hours.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston

Muriel Butters' granddaughter, Monique Fraasch, husband, Steve, and son, Brenna, of Oakley, Calif., spent several days visiting in Bethel. While here they enjoyed Mollyockett Day and Monique attended her 15th Class Reunion from Telstar at Stony Brook campground. They visited relatives and friends and made several trips to places of interest in the area.

Shelby and Danny Lond of Norwalk, Conn., spent the weekend with grandparents Bob and Ginny Keniston after returning from their honeymoon in Norway and Scotland where they visited family and friends.

The Keniston women enjoyed a week at camp at Songo Pond. No kids, no men, no dogs. We finished a quilt, family oriented, which was the big project. They sighted a moose swimming and walking on the beach on Songo Road. The weekend was followed by torrential rain which raised the water level considerably, taking out docks, etc.

Roger and Lillian Conant were hosts for a birthday party for grandson Joshua on Sunday. Family and friends gathered including Jeanine and Dan Rand from Richmond Va., with sons Joshua and Marcus; Aaron and Triste Conant and Megan of Portsmouth, R.I., and Lorena and Jake Tyler and Lance.

Bob and Ginny Keniston have returned home following a week's fishing at Three Rivers Lodge in Northwestern Labrador.

Fifty plus friends and family members helped Jen and Jon Shaw celebrate their 25th birthday last Saturday at their camp on South Pond. A cookout at noon, swimming and boating in the afternoon and a sumptuous beef barbecue in the evening. Perfect weather prevailed.

During the heavy rainstorm last Friday afternoon at Mary Eichel's, Songo Pond cottage, her rain gauge showed 3-1/2 inches of rain from 12 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Mary Eichel's sister-in-law and husband, Barbara and Carl Johnson, Ocean Pines, Md., and nephew and wife, Tom and Karen Johnson and girls, Erin and Natalie, Ellicott City, Md., were day visitors the past week at her cottage on Songo Pond.

Raymond Eichel, Worcester, Mass., and brother, Wayne Eichel, Grapevine, Texas, visited with their mother, Mary Eichel over the weekend. They enjoyed a round of golf at the Bethel Inn Country Club.

Middle Intervale News
By Pat Carter

Chuck Eypper has been at the family farm for a working vacation which included painting the house and ell. It looks very nice.

Farwell Mountain Estates has a third house being built and another lot has sold. I asked my father-in-law once whatever possessed people to build their farms up on that bony old hillside when there was good intervale land. He told me there were a couple of reasons — flooding of the Androscoggin River and Indians. Both reasons were valid at that time in history. Back when those farms were built the hillsides had relatively few trees.

He also told me there were at least two schools on Swan Hill. Whichever area of Swan Hill with most children, dictated which school was open. Well, the Indians are no longer a threat and the Androscoggin River is fairly well behaved and a Vail, Colo., like atmosphere has settled on the area so folks are back building homes on Swan Hill. However, I don't think we'll be called upon to build a school up there anytime soon since I've not seen a chick or a child in that vicinity. People still want to see what's going on below and they want to see the mountains and valleys, the ski area, other homes on opposite hillsides or ridgelines and each other's homes. They will all be able to enjoy clear mountain air and plenty of it, most especially when below-zero winds come sailing out of Grafton Notch in the winter. At those times I'm glad to be a "lowlander."

Good News! The corn is in. How we all look forward to corn on the cob. The gardens are pouring forth their bounty and we'll all soon be stuffed on vegetables. Wouldn't it be nice if we could somehow stretch that out through the long winter months?

We continue receiving wonderful donations to the Middle Intervale Cemetery Association. We're grateful for everyone's support. Thank you.

If you have any news for Middle Intervale, please give me a call at 824-3232. Thank you.

Mayville News
By Don Bennett

Friday's cloudburst left three and one-half inches of rain at our house — the most rain in one storm that we have ever collected. The heaviest rain seems to have been in the Littlefield Beaches-Woodstock area. Route 232 was closed due to flooding. Sonny Blake told me that at Littlefield's they received more than five inches of rain. As a barometer of disaster response, MDOT orange trucks were on the road by our house on Saturday and Sunday.

Last Wednesday my assistant reporter and I visited Frank Harrington's haying operation at his main hayfield in Mayville. Frank had four or five trailer loads of large round bales in the field. He told me that each bale of dried hay weighs about 800 pounds. My assistant was fascinated by the Bobcat style John Deere tractor the Harrington's use to load round bales so he was in the driver's seat wiggling all the levers and flipping all the switches. Showing his 100 percent persistence he worked his way in between Frank's legs for a ride in spite of Frank telling him repeatedly that there was room for only one person.

Wednesday was also the day Sewer Department Superintendent Rob Gundersen was on the road in Mayville handing out letters from the town manager soliciting comments on a Mayville sewer. On Monday, Aug. 7, the selectmen will discuss an initial sewer system in Mayville. Mayville property owners should attend to present questions and comments. The other topic which was introduced for discussion in the town manager's letter is sidewalks in Mayville. There will be more follow-up on this topic in coming weeks. Mr. Gundersen has informed me that quarterly cost to new users listed in the town manager's letter come as close as possible to reality that can be estimated at this time. Owners would foot the bill for sewer pipe laid from their house to the right of way boundary — in Mayville's case, the state highway right of way boundary. The number of bedrooms in a house determines the rate; a three-bedroom house is the standard.

TOO MUCH TO HANDLE—Friday's heavy rains overwhelmed a culvert on Vernon Street in Greenwood, causing water to pour across the pavement and stopping traffic for a time.

The town has already invested in an upgraded sewer plant. Mr. Pelletier's development could add perhaps as much as $5 million or more to the town's real estate value. A sewer line to just this development from the new bridge would seem a very safe additional investment in the town's capital building account. In fact it seems that the first phase of sewer line construction, as presented to date, will only accommodate Twitchell Brook Estates. It will take seven more phases of sewer line construction to pass our house and reach the River View Resort. That is why Mayville residents should attend the Aug. 7, 7 p.m., selectmen's meeting and pin down where they stand now in this first phase of construction and how much future planned phases will benefit them. The selectmen's meetings are held in a conference room on the ground floor of the Cole Block. Entrance to the meeting room is a door on the side of the Cole building a few steps from the entrance to The Citizen office and opposite Northeast Bank.

sent Bennett to the market to get us some sidewalks and he came home with a sewer." (But the story ended with Jack and the widow becoming very rich and we hope it happens here.) At least amongst some of us there is much discussion going on over the Internet. Boiled down the discussion is this: Old timers want sidewalks — new developer needs sewer. So far in the debate, Ross Timberlake has expressed the issue most succinctly.

Ross e-mailed me his opinion which I have condensed to this — Pelletier's project is going great guns and there is little doubt that a sewer will reach there.

Personally I don't want or need a public sewer. I would like the traffic to slow down at least to the speed limit. A sidewalk is absolutely a must and should be done in tandem with the sewer. Sidewalks in Mayville will create a situation where crosswalks would be located at the Good Food Store and at the bridges. Crosswalks slow traffic!

At Bethel Outdoor Adventure this summer's Kids Canoe and Kayak Camp wrapped up Friday at 3 p.m. with a sterling game of Capture the Flag played around the campground. The game was played during the biggest continuous rainstorm in recorded history (at least here at BOA). The ten kids plus two instructors felt that when you're wet you're wet you're wet — so a little more water really doesn't make that much difference.

The campers (ages 9-13) were wrapping up a week of paddling skills, in canoes and kayaks, on local lakes and ponds and of course the Androscoggin. They learned all basic paddling strokes, rescue drills, how to control boats in moving water, and the beginnings of white water techniques.

Two of the Parsons boys — Thomas and Charles — were the instructors for the week. Bethel gave each of its participating residents a scholarship of $65, and the BOA staff came up with a full scholarship for one lucky Mayville child. Gavin Sabby, grandson to Marcie and Tom White (Prodigal Inn) was the recipient, and did a super job all week. His exploits and energy would make Mayville proud!

News from Timberlake's Home Store: Signs of the slowing economy have started to show here. Over the past five years we have averaged about fifty to sixty customers in "queue" at any given time. Our backlog is running about forty orders right now. Mail orders continue but inquiries have slowed.

States represented by our customers right now: California, New Mexico, Ohio, Kentucky, Maryland, New York, and one or two each from Connecticut and Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York are, historically, far and away our best markets. Right now they're a little lean on our order board.

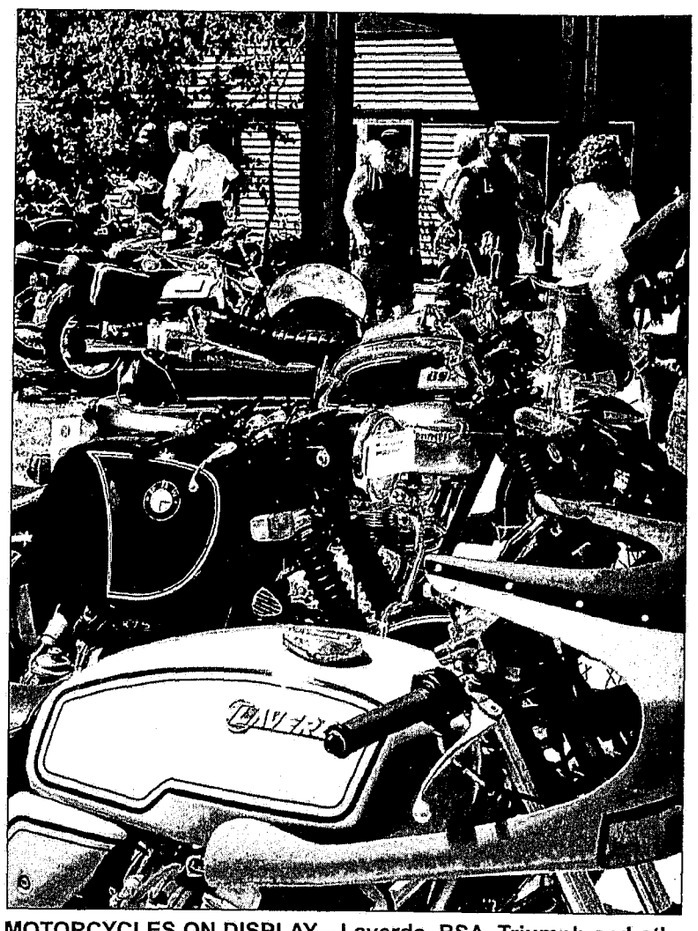
We're doing a "buyer incentive" promo right now on the chamber website: bring in any receipt from any Bethel business and right off the top you save 10 percent on any of our Shaker chairs! A receipt from Mouse and Bean for a cup of coffee could save someone $100 on a set of chairs -so far though we have not gotten any takers.

Our reporter's assistant has ended his two months internship and returned home to Plano, Texas on Friday; he departed from the airport which changes every ten minutes, Logan.

The day before he left we spent the afternoon at Screw Auger Falls; during the hot days we had been swimming daily at the covered bridge. For kids who have only lived in Florida and Texas, coming to Maine where there are so many stones to throw is almost like coming to a fun park. The stones in Sunday River at the covered bridge and at Swan's Corner bestow as much fun as throwing material as the river does for swimming.

Now that the tumult and the shouting over school graduation and Mollyockett Day has died down some of Mayville's pathway advocates are back at work trying to figure out a good pathway that will connect the new bridge with the River View's walking trail along the Androscoggin. Information about the trails in the Bethel area and work in progress by the Bethel trails committee is online, ask Google for Bethel Area Trails. Also online is a new Mayville information site; ask Google for "Mayville mayflowers Bethel."

To close with a reminder — please call or e-mail if you have news about Mayville. E-mail to Donald@thebetheljournals.info or telephone, 824-2094.



MOTORCYCLES ON DISPLAY—Laverda, BSA, Triumph and other motorcycles line up during the European and British motorcycle show for last weekend's European motorcycle meet, held at the Jordan Grand at Sunday River. Just over 300 bikes were at the meet, according to organizer Mike Stackhouse.

My husband, Richard LeComte, has spent the last month in the Cardiac Unit of Maine Medical Center. He received wonderful care from many dedicated people. After stabilization at the Upper Connecticut Valley Hospital, he was transferred by ambulance to Maine Medical Center where timely and excellent follow-up procedures were conducted. He wishes to thank the following people for the wonderful care he received: Drs. O'Meara and Sweeny, the nursing personnel, the Cardiac Catherization Team including Carey, Jeanne, Jackie, Jo Curtis and Dr. "Fireball" Ryan.

Following a trip to Nuclear Medicine, he was given his discharge papers and transferred to Norway Rehabilitation Hospital. He is receiving lots of TLC and wishes to thank Jean Lengyel of Buckfield for the extra care she has given to his care on the night shift.

Visitors in town last week were Sue Angevine's brother, David Copick, Carolyn and Carl Taylor, who were staying at Barbara and Clyde Stratton's camp while their camp is still in the process of being moved back onto a new foundation.

Jane Pickering visited her dad, Al Gagnon, who hasn't been feeling too great lately.

Sue Angevine has a huge butterfly bush in her greenhouse. I planted some bushes a few years ago, but the "winter killer" struck and did them in.

The Caseys have some great tomatoes in their garden. Of course, they are still a brilliant green but one "mutant" reddened up nicely. They watched its progress and waited for that "first" fresh tomato to taste. Maggie Magalloway, their girl golden retriever, also had her eye on it and quickly snagged it as it reached its peak. (Smart Puppy!!)

The Harris family from LeRoy, N.Y., brought some hydroponic tomatoes from their greenhouse and they "happied" us up nicely.

The Ladies Aid is busy as usual. The ladies are meeting at Lucille Largesse's home while the Ladies Aid building is having new siding installed. At present, they are tying a quilt that Lucille has constructed. She has donated more quilts to the Ladies Aid than can be imagined. Pledges are still being accepted to help finance the new siding project and they thank all the donors again for their generosity.

Margaret Mitchell was very happy to see John Sweatt of Back Street splitting the large pile of wood in her yard. Margaret is only 91 so she has plans to stack it herself.

Ginny Williamson saw three eagles together at the mouth of the Dead Cambridge and they are the Birds of the Week.

Thanks again to all of you for the acts of kindness to us in the past several weeks. Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Joy Yarnell, Sally Lavallee and Richard LeComte.

Since we hung twin hummingbird feeders this spring, the hummers seem to have been much friendlier toward each other. In the past there was always one very aggressive male who would chase all others away, whether or not he was actively feeding himself. Now there seems to be more of a "live and let live" attitude, and no more hummingbird wars.

Blueberries are in full spate, so if you have a favorite picking spot, get thee there. Won't be long before the blackberries are ready, for there are already occasional ripe ones to be seen. The bushes are heavily laden with berries, thanks to all the rain, and said berries should be plump and sweet for the same reason. Our raspberries are winding down, and we have a batch of jam and several containers in the freezer.

Last Friday Mike's rain gauge measured 5.9 inches of rain in one day! We were lucky right here in that we had no flooding problems, but elsewhere in the area there were several washouts. In Eastlake, Ohio, outside my hometown of Cleveland, there fell 10 inches in one day, causing major flooding. Here at the Hoehstead on sunny Saturday, we had half a dozen or so brief (30 seconds) showers seemingly out of nowhere, with the sun shining brightly. Some crazy weather!

Saturday night Mike and I went to hear the Yankee Brass Band at the lawn of the Moses Mason House. It was a perfect evening for it, and at least 200 other people thought so, too. It was quite a crowd listening to old-time music played on antique instruments, including some selections by a local Mainer by name of Ripley. I saw Freda Davis and Jane Hosterman tapping their toes and nodding their heads in time to the music. The band finished up with a rendition of the familiar "Grand March" from "Aida." This was so well received that they did another "finale" with a rousing "William Tell Overture." I kept looking for the masked man on a white horse.

Ani Inman called me on Sunday evening, full of news of her family's camping trip to Pawtuckaway State Park in New Hampshire. They had some excitement on the way over, passing through a huge, spectacular thunderstorm. While shopping for last-minute items in a Hannaford's, the Inmans suddenly found themselves in pitch dark when the power went out. The store's backup system soon kicked in, however, and they were again able to find each other — and their groceries — again.

By the time the family arrived at the campground, all storms were over and clear skies prevailed. Ani reported that Caili lost a tooth on the way there, so she had one less to help her chew her s'mores, which everyone enjoyed around the campfire. Lesley's brother and her niece, as well as her friend, Ellen, joined in the fun, sharing tents and campers, and swimming and hiking.

Last Wednesday's memorial service for Shirley Gilbert was very well attended, a tribute to the kind of person he was. Among those who came to honor his memory were Don and Connie Vautour, who used to live on the Flat Road.

Also on Wednesday, the Pleasant Valley Grange was invited to picnic with the Shelburne, N.H., Grange and had a fine time there. Last Thursday was the Grange's regular monthly meeting, and their Flea Market went on over the weekend. There are still many "goodies" to sell, and the Flea Market will go on every weekend until Labor Day.

Barbara Mahler attended a high school reunion in Vermont over the weekend. We're not telling how many years were celebrated.

The Reverend Earl Bell is at home recuperating after a stay in hospital to deal with a too-rapid heartbeat. He came to church Sunday as a member of the congregation, and enjoyed a service led by Dan Grover, with assistance from Linda Westleigh. We wish the Reverend Bell a speedy and complete recovery.

We've had a couple of blessedly cool nights and early mornings, but by the time you read this, the heat and humidity will probably be back. Such is life in the "dog days" of August. We can look forward to fresh sweet corn, beans, and squash, and that will take our minds off the uncomfortable weather. Call or write with news: 836-3011; dhoeh@megalink.net.

Welcome to Olde Home Days! As many of you know this is the big weekend celebration in town.

On Saturday the First Congregational Church, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. will have their annual auction, lunch, cookie walk, coffee and donuts.

On Saturday at the Library, they will be having a book sale. One dollar ($1) a bag for books that have been taken out of circulation; these are located in the foyer.

Also on Saturday, author Pat Stewart, who resides in Greenwood, will be signing copies of her book, "Mollyockett."

As most of us know, Mollyockett visited Andover many times, made friends with Andover residents, was cared for by them in her last days and died here in 1816. As a result, many parts of the book take place in Andover.

The book is "Mollyockett" by Pat Stewart — Twin Lights Publishing, Rockport, Mass., ISBN 1-885435-43-6, Hardcover; $19.95.

If you would like to get in touch with Pat, she can be reached at P,O. Box 220, Bryant Pond, ME 04219.

Polly and Dick Johnston visited with her cousin, Eleanor and Dick Currier, on Monday in North Jay. On Wednesday, they met cousins Louise Powell and Mary Walton and friend at the Far East in Mexico for lunch, They had such a nice visit.

Dottie and Roger Mills and Polly and Dick Johnston had supper together at Teena's on Thursday evening.

Happy Birthday to Jacob Huff, and twins Corbin and Sadie Standeven, all on Aug. 2 (yesterday). Happy birthday to Katie Merrill and Macy Dixon on the 4th.

Peg Madigan, granddaughter Joclyn, and niece Sarah went to Portland on Monday and did some shopping at the mall. Joclyn and her nana made a Build a Bear (for those of you who don't know, there is a store in the Maine Mall where you can make your own stuffed animal, fill it, and dress it!).

See you around.

The weather has been quite hot lately and some of the rainstorms have created quite a mess in some areas. When we came home from Gorham, N.H., last Friday, there were big puddles all over the place.

I was sitting in my favorite chair and talking on the phone with my brother, Steve McLain, one night last week. I looked out the front window and noticed something move behind a bush by the Town Hall. Just as soon as Hugh looked out, a deer ran across Depot Street and the railroad tracks toward Route 2. Hugh walked out to see where it went and found it hiding in the trees between the tracks and Route 2. As soon as there was a break in the traffic, the deer ran across Route 2 and into the picnic area.

Steve has been busy working in his garden. The yellow beans are doing great and I can't wait for them to be ready. He has another helper, besides Brad, in the garden. He came across a black and yellow garden spider that was busy catching insects in his web. I haven't seen any of those for years.

Sharon Leighton called to let me know that she and her husband, Alfred, are enjoying the new addition to the family. Mike and Carrie Gordon recently had a baby girl. Mikaylah Elizabeth was born on July 13 and weighed 7 pounds and 14 ounces. Congratulations to all.

I got to visit with Annie Hastings this past week at the Cohen Exhibit held at the Bethel Historical Society. Robert and Judy (Daniels) Bishop were in town for the same event, so it was great to see them also.

Jakob Hooper, son of Chris and Bethany Hooper, celebrated his first birthday this past Sunday at the home of his grandparents, Fernand and Beverley Corriveau. There were lots of friends and family present to help him celebrate.

Planning Board

A Planning Board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Aug. 3 (tonight) at the Town Hall. Contact Jack Pucak at 836-2729 for information related to the meeting. Applications for such work may be obtained at the Town Office.

Selectmen's Meeting

I attended the Special Selectmen's Meeting on July 27. They discussed the articles to go onto the warrant for the Special Town Meeting on Aug. 16. There will be an article to see if the town wants to raise money to update the Comprehensive Plan and an article to see if the town wants to create a boat launch on the Androscoggin River on town property near the transfer station.

This is an official Town Meeting, so if these issues are of interest to you, be sure to come and vote. Instead of having a public hearing on the boat launch, there will be discussion time before the vote is taken.

The next regular selectmen's meeting will be held on Aug. 9 at 7 p.m. at the Town Hall. These meetings are open to the public, so feel free to attend and see how your local government works for you.

Gilead Historical Society

The Bethel Historical Society and the GHS co-hosted the William Cohen Exhibit. On July 25, a few members from the GHS went to the State Line and met up with Stanley Howe, Bethel Historical Society, and Christian Potholm, Professor of Government at Bowdoin College. There was a picture and write-up in the Bethel Citizen last week. Those present from the GHS were Beverley Corriveau, Robert and Judy Bishop, and Hugh and Lin Chapman. After the pictures were taken, the group headed to Bethel for a BBQ at Stan Howe's before going to the exhibit opening at the Robinson House at 6 p.m. At 7:30 p.m., Christian Potholm, who was a political advisor to Cohen, gave a lecture at the Mason House.

Newry

by Sylvia Harrington

A get-together of family and friends was held at Carrie and Ed McPherson's on the Hanover/Newry border of Route 2 this past weekend. Good food and socializing was the order of the weekend. The heavy downpour early Friday evening didn't seem to dampen the event.

Last week, Peter Shorey from Damariscotta, who is now working at Western Maine Supply, treated the Robert Lowells to a wonderful lobster feed. Laura tells me they were delicious and that Peter is enjoying living in Newry.

This summer the Bear River Trading Post is selling Nathan Hot Dogs, which are a big seller at New York's Coney Island. Stop by and enjoy one with your favorite relishes. They are also keeping iced coffee on hand for customers to enjoy during the heat. It is a good place to buy gas for all your gas-consuming cars, mowers, weed whackers and other machines, along with some friendly conversation.

Happy 21st birthday to Kurt Wight on July 19.

A family birthday party was held on June 24 for Kurt at the home of his parents, Brad and Brenda Wight of Newry. Those attending from Newry were Brad, Brenda and Katie Wight; Mike Wight; Ed and Retta Powers; Jason, Sarah, Jordan and Payton Berry; Terri and Staci Littlehale; John and Nancy Wight; and attending from South Rumford were Sewall and Shirley Staples. Unable to attend but sending a gift was Dani Littlehale of Liberty. Cakes were made by Kurt's mother.

The Sanford Mainers are, as of July 24, 21-13 or second place. Once in a while one of the TV news channels will have a blurb about the Mainers in their sports news.

Esther Wilson and Jackie Libby had their Aunt Ruth Tibbetts of Peru and Helen Farrar of South Paris and Helen's friend, Carol, visit on July 30. The family had a cookout with brothers and sisters visiting.

Donna Curtis and a friend attended Donna's 50th class reunion of Casco High School on July 30 at Crescent Lake.

People may be tired of bear stories, but I was visited by one a week ago. It left hair all over the side of my truck and seared dirt all over the liner in the bed. I had a half-hour pick up; it threw everything around and ripped open the other bag, but left it in the truck.

The Grange supper schedule is as follows: Aug. 19, ham and sweet potatoes; Sept. 16, turkey; Sept. 23, beef stew; Oct. 21, harvest supper; Nov. 11, turkey supper.

The "muggies" have ruled the weather forever it seems. This past weekend was a delight. Have a nice week.

We previously reported that Sara Booth had graduated from Colby College in Waterville. Extra special congratulations go to Sara, as we have learned that she graduated summa cum laude with a degree in English and a minor in Italian.

Sara was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Society and she received the Italian Award from Colby College.

Presently she plans to move to Italy to work in international law.

A ceremony recently took place at the Plumbago Mountain Mine where workers took leave from breaking rocks open to wish for good luck. High upon a cliff accomplished flutist Midge Hannawalt provided a rendition for great fortune.

Those present were touched by the music and Bob Brown said it brought tears to his eyes. Midge is the daughter of John Hannawalt and she spent summers with her family at Howard Pond.

Jenny Tirrell, daughter of Donna and Clem Worcester, is recovering at her Oxford home after breaking her foot when she tripped while walking across her living room.

In a follow-up to Sarah Moir's bottle drive for the Gardner Roberts Memorial Library Moving Fund, last week a Vermont vehicle dropped off $30 worth of returnable bottles at the Town Office. Another donation with $12 worth of bottles brought Sarah's total to $730. Anyone else that would like to continue contributing returnables to the library may leave them at the Town Office.

Back-to-back power failures left much of Hanover without electricity for nearly three hours a week ago Saturday evening.

The hot and humid weather has sent many folks to the pond for swimming. They better be careful or the water will get worn out!

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

It was very hot and humid all week but the weekend came in perfect with sun, moderate temperatures, and a cool breeze. Rain showers did cleanse and cool the earth several times. One heavy, blowing rain produced hailstones. Leaves on many plants were punctured but survived.

Allen and Myrna Lamb and son, Aaron, and daughter, Amber, and friend visited Joyce Lamb over the weekend and attended a wedding in the Hill family at South Paris.

Joe and Leighton Lamb from Athens, Ohio, are visiting Joyce Lamb for the week while Micki Lamb attends a conference at China Lake. She will spend the weekend here in West Paris.

A family gathering of Lambs was held in Augusta at the home of Peggy Lamb and Mike Seaton on Sunday. Twenty-two attended and all enjoyed a picnic lunch. The many little ones entertained us.

New corn and tender string beans are plentiful and delicious. Cucumbers and summer squash are available in abundance.

Beryl Bonney and I were in Auburn for groceries this past week. I was out of about everything and expecting company so filled my cart full. I had enough to get the $10 discount.

Beryl picked up her winter Penney's catalogue. It is getting time for school shopping so fall must be near.

Buffy does not appreciate the 20-month-old grandson and hides or goes outside. His food has to be put up out of reach of little hands and then Buffy can't get to it either. It is only for a week!

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. We hope that everyone out there is enjoying the summer, despite days of either down-pouring rain or unbearable heat.

The church held its second supper of the season last Thursday. As usual, the food was great, the service friendly and the company wonderful. The next supper will be held on Thursday, Aug. 10, starting at 5:30 p.m.

The Albany Improvement Association is still looking for good, saleable items (remember: no clothing or books, please). You can get in touch with Buzzy Lapham regarding any items you have. The sale is set for Saturday, Aug. 12, at the Albany Town Hall at the bottom of Hunt's Corner Road.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week God Bless and Keep!

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing

A beautiful memorial service was held on July 22 at the SDA Church in South Woodstock for my sisters, Dorothy Poland Critser of Arizona and Evelyn Poland Dunn, Norway, who died within three weeks of ea 1 other earlier this year.

Dorothy's daughte1, Vicky Curry and son Tyler, Arizona and Evelyn's daughter, Patrice Dunn, California have been here for the services and to visit relatives that they had not seen for many years. Dorothy's ashes were spread over her mother Helen Poland's grave and her grandmother Maude Benson's grave according to Dorothy's wishes.

Cleo Ryerson did a super job recollecting, at the service, of years past with her cousins Dorothy and Evelyn. The minister, Cliff Gleason, did the church service and offered comforting words.

After the memorial services a gathering was held for friends and relatives at the Thurlow Hall in South Woodstock, where over 100 persons were present.

Vicky and son, Tyler, and Patrice have now returned to their homes in Arizona and California. They had all been staying with James Dunn in Norway. I will miss both of my sisters and will think of them daily. It was so good to see both my nieces, Vicky and Patrice, even though it was a sad occasion.

Richard finally has the lawnmower back from the shop and is getting some lawn mowing done. He wants to thank Wesley Cox, Frank Frazer and Murrill Blazier for mowing our lawn while it was being repaired.

Or neighbor, Frances House, has returned home from the hospital after an operation. I wish her the best.

My birthday was also this past week, and on Sunday Kellie, Vinny, Kyle, Landon, Sarah, Pil and Zack came up to help me celebrate. Kellie made a delicious jello cake decorated like an American flag. We all had pizza and a good time visiting.

I hate to mention this but I took a tumble on the stairs of the Thurlow Hall after the memorial services. I hurt my foot and have not gotten the results yet whether it is broken or not, but I do not think it is. It was kind of a busy day and I was not paying attention. Peggy Roberts also fell that day and hurt her leg.

My brother, Phelps Poland has been in SMH for a few days. I wish him a speedy recovery. He got sick while he was mowing his lawn. It was a very hot day. He is now back home.

Quote of the Week: "I have learned that to err is human, but to really foul things up requires a computer."

Locke Mills

by Lorraine Larson

As a longtime member of the Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary, I read with interest the letter to the editor about the Greenwood Fire Department. My late husband was a part of the department for many years and when there was a fire the mill whistle blew, the men who were a part of the crew shut down their machines and took off on the run, picked up what meager equipment they had to work with and went and put out the fire. Now, no one knows better than I how things change, an IPod to me conjures up an image of a milkweed pod with little eyes peering out from among the silks, but fire is still fire, water is still water, wind is still wind and earth is still dirt. And, yes, the firemen have to be aware of the many hazardous materials that make up the modern home, but the object of a fire department is still to put out fires.

We spent a lot of time trying to get the information out that you can't put your stove in a closet, the chimney should be cleaned every year especially if you burn green wood, you don't put your live coals and hot ashes in a cardboard box and you don't leave your hot ashes in a tin pail on your wooden porch, just to name a few common sense rules that you would think would be obvious to everyone; but, clearly are not, since each of those things have been the cause of fires over the years. And, yes, before you burn anything outdoors you check with your fire department to either get a permit or the go-ahead to burn on that particular day.

As time went on the men decided what new equipment they needed and a combination of the Auxiliary, the Fire Department and the town provided the funds. The men made their decisions on who would be chief, assistant, etc. They learned to work together by all means possible and fires kept on being put out. You would think "if it ain't broke don't fix it" would make for common sense government but along comes the state who decided they knew better how each department should be run and from then on it's been an ever-increasing nightmare for the men who care enough for their neighbors and their town to give of their time and often their money to try to keep up with the rules, regulations and downright nonsense the state imposes.

When the article came up in the town warrant to have the town be in charge of selecting the chief, I am afraid most of us didn't take it seriously. A volunteer fire department runs best when the members choose those they think best qualified to lead them. If we had taken it more seriously some of the auxiliary would have been there to voice their objections and listen to the arguments. Instead I was busy elsewhere that day and some of the others were working on the Town Meeting dinner. It is to Raymond Seames' credit that he was even willing to stay in the department after it was voted to have the town fill the chief's position. I would have been one of those who left. When I read the qualifications the town expected a person to have to take a part-time position with a small department filled with volunteers I was less than impressed, to put it as gently as I can. With the way things seem to be going we are headed to a full-time paid professional department; and, if people are upset with their taxes now, wait until they pick up that tab, or we will be consolidating with a bigger department such as Norway who will have to expand their territory and their department. The alternative, I am afraid, is a department who will be finding it more difficult to get new members, with members who are unhappy, and one that probably will not be nearly as effective. I don't pretend to be a prophet but it will be interesting to see just how things do shape up in the coming months. Because the bottom line for a fire department is still putting out fires and we need volunteers who can do so without having to become scientists, paramedics, bookkeepers, and everything else the state would like them to be. After all, a fire is still a fire is still a fire.....!

I, too, deplore any form of bigotry such as occurred in Bethel a couple weeks ago, and I hope all the letters and condemnations will send a message that this type of behavior will not be tolerated. However, it has been my observation that often the perpetrator is often showing off, trying to stir things up and calling attention to himself. If, indeed, this was the person's intent this childish behavior certainly achieved his objective.

Lorene Mills has been spending the week with her mother, Laura Hutchins, in East Andover helping her get ready for back surgery. She has had to take Laura to Rumford Community Hospital each day so Laura could have her blood checked, as the surgeon would not perform the operation until the clotting factor in her blood was just right. Finally, on Thursday Laura was able to have the surgery, which was performed at St. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston. It is hoped the surgery will relieve her of the extreme pain she has been experiencing. He did not expect it would help the loss of the natural function in her leg, unfortunately, as the damage was too great.

I have been taking care of my great-grandson, Ricky McLean, for several months after school three days a week and all day those three days during the summer, so I got a kick out of Sharon Bouchard's column, when she mentioned the constant use of her identifying name used by the children. Ricky is seven years old, the same age as one of her grandsons, and it does seem as though children nowadays don't want to do anything by themselves very much. I have seen more cartoons, DVDs and the like than I had seen previously in my lifetime, I think. It is to the great credit of the creators of "Chicken Run" that I could see this DVD at least fifty times and not be pulling my hair out by its roots. I must admit to liking "Dragon Tales" and "The Big Red Dog" almost as much as he does. I am not sure if this is due to the creativeness of the programs or my mentality and I don't think I am going to pursue the issue. However, his mother, Mandy, is working her last week for a while as she awaits the arrival of Ricky's sister and I am going to miss seeing him so often, I'm sure. There is nothing like young children to keep you young mentally, even if your body doesn't think it can stand up to it.

On the other hand, I am going to have to tackle my house before winter sets in and that doesn't appeal to me much. I have a lot of stuff that needs to be sorted and sent to the recycling bin or to the trash. The end result will be worth it I am sure, as after Marcia cleaned out my bedroom I can actually get around in it, but throwing things is not my long suit as I tend to be a pack rat.

I just hope the air conditioner holds out for the rest of the summer. When Ricky tried to watch some of his DVDs and the player kept saying "wrong disk type" Ralph told Ricky it was older than he was and my air conditioner is probably three times as old as he is. I think next year it is due for some help and I hope to get a new one, if something else isn't more pressing. But summer is waning and, for all the heat, it never is long enough in Maine.

And that's all from the peanut gallery, so until next time, you keep it happening and then tell me about it please and you won't have to learn more abou me and my family than y u ever wanted to know.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

It is August. We are now more than halfway through the summer. It is hot, hot, hot. The weather forecasters say it may be 90 degrees. We know that it has been more than 90 on more than one occasion. Last week at the transfer station, we recorded 115 degrees. It was worse than unbearable. It was sunstroke weather. It took me several days to recover. This week promises the same. Maybe if I complain enough we will be allowed to use our other engine and can use our fan that runs off the battery.

Other than heat, I started a sewing class at Oxford Knitting Mills. Our very own Colleen is teaching. Maybe I will be able to make some nice clothes when I am done.

As reported last week, I got a piano. I did not get the one I was going after; we did not get out of Waterford. When we went to enlist additional bodies to move it, Allison Murch told us to take hers. That way we did not have to leave town and drive to South Portland. By the time you read this, the piano should be tuned and working, I hope. Vinnie George is expected today, Tuesday.

It has been inferred that I am the cause of Mr. Wheeler resigning. While I am flattered that people feel that I have that much power, I can't really pretend that I do. There were others who led and pursued the cause. I was just a casualty along the way. In any case, we are voting Sept. 6 on a new selectman. May the best person win.

This Saturday, Aug. 5, will be the sixth annual pig roast at the Stoneham Fire Station. It is sponsored by the Stoneham Knight Riders Snowmobile Club and runs from 4:30- to 6:30 p.m.

On Saturday, the 5th, there is also the 2nd annual Lobster Fest at Mt. Tir'em Lodge 132. It runs from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Wilkins House on Plummer Hill in Waterford. Lobsters and chicken, corn on the cob, watermelon, rolls and drink are available. The money goes to the scholarship and other programs. Lobsters are $20 and chicken is $15. For more information, call Stan Wright 583-2851.

Last weekend the Jones, Richard and Frances, celebrated 60 years together. Happy Wedding Anniversary!

That is all for this week. Try not to get too over heated and enjoy the week.

Reports were given by Jane Hosterman and Arlene Lowell.

The door prize was won by Millie Jackson. The raffle, which was a throw quilt made and donated by Millie Jackson, was won by Caroline Gould.

The next meeting will be Aug. 9 and will be the annual picnic at Stony Brook Campground in Hanover. The meeting will start at 11 a.m. Members will bring either a salad or dessert to share.

Hugh Swan gave a very interesting talk on his collection of wooden dolls and toys. He had a nice display for the members to look at, some were originals and some he had made.

Congratulations to the following recycling teams: Tri-Town for packing six out of six cardboard containers with over 1,000 pounds each. Stoneham/Waterford packed eight out of nine cardboard containers with over 1,000 pounds each. Greenwood/Woodstock for packing five out of six cardboard containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds each, and West Paris packed three out of five cardboard containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds.

Packing cardboard containers with over 1,000 pounds is time-consuming. Hauling a fully loaded container to the recycling plant in Norway/Paris is cost efficient for the corporation. We appreciate your efforts.

As the figures show, recycling does pay. Thank you for your participation.

From Waterford Library

On Aug. 12 at 11 a.m. the Waterford Library will host "Dana and Friends" featuring Dana Perkins, a professional ventriloquist and magician who performs throughout New England. When not on the road doing shows, Dana is a graphic designer for the Journal Tribune newspaper in Biddeford.

Dana's act has several puppets including a giant bird named "Pee Wee," who is almost as tall as Dana himself. In addition to his puppet friends Dana will present juggling, surprise paper cutting and mind-boggling magic tricks.

Dana was born in Portland and grew up in Massachusetts and Maine.

He began learning magic tricks in grade four, ventriloquism in grade seven, and did his very first show while in junior high school. He's been performing ever since!

Come enjoy an excellent family entertainment for adults, teenagers and children ages 5 or older. The Waterford Library is located on routes 35/37 in Waterford Flat near the old town hall on Keoka Lake.

From Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

Sudbury Canada Days, the Bethel Historical Society's annual summer heritage festival, will be bigger and better than ever in 2006 with a variety of activities to engage the interest of a wide audience of all ages.

The name of the festival harkens back to Bethel's original name, Sudbury Canada, in use from the granting of the township in 1768 until the incorporation of the town in 1796. The early name honored the original grantees from Sudbury, Massachusetts, who had fought unsuccessfully to conquer Canada in 1690. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts rewarded these men with land in the "District of Maine," naming it in honor of their Massachusetts town and the campaign in which they served. Bethel was never part of Canada. There were once more than a dozen "Canada" townships in northern New England at one time. This festival honors the town's rich heritage dating from the 18th century.

As 2006 marks the 225th anniversary of what is often referred to as "New England's last Indian raid," there will be an observance of this milestone by 18th century re-enactors who will be arriving on Friday evening, Aug. 11, for the weekend.

This will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the Dr. Mason House. Everyone is we lcome.

Saturday's events will begin with the re-enactors around 9 a.m. and the horseshoe tournament at 10 a.m. At 1 p.m. the children's parade will kick off the afternoon's events. This year's theme in honor of the Indian Raid anniversary will be "Indians and Early Settlers." In a time when rural music is being urbanized and urban music is being ruralized, it is refreshing to hear the simple beauty and foot-stomping joy of traditional Celtic and Canadian Maritime favorites played with such enthusiastic, twang twisted mastery. With three men, three voices, and three instruments, the Dave Rowe Trio creates their own unique blend of original and traditional music. Dave performs his familiar lead vocals, guitar, piano, and tin whistle. Bassist extraordinaire, Kevin O'Reilly and fiddle/mandolin wunderkind, Edward Howe join Dave in jamming up a blend of solid, soaring harmonies and burning instrumentals. Admission by Donation: $14 / $10 (Seniors) The proceeds will be divided equally between the DRT and the Brick Church. FMI: Contact Roberta Chandler Phone: (207)925-2792

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

STAND BY ME!

Real estate transactions are complicated and unpredictable. Professional Realtors are trained to handle the many facets of buying a home. A good Realtor is an invaluable asset to your venture if you are in the market for a house.

When you find a Realtor with whom you feel confident, it is good to enter into a committed working relationship with that person. Concentrating your search with one agent will allow that Realtor to become truly intimate with your needs, desires and financial capacities.

Maintaining loyalty to the Realtor of your choice will bear you more fruit than scattering your attention among several agents. A Realtor who feels your commitment will devote his or her entire energy to finding the right home for you.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

Obituaries

PHYLLIS K. COOLIDGE

Phyllis Kimball Coolidge, 64, of Locke Mills, passed into the Lord's hands on Friday, July 28, 2006, after a long illness of diabetes and a short illness of pulmonary hypertension.

She was born in Bath on March 11, 1942, to C. Mellen and Jeanette (Kimball) Kimball, and lived her early childhood at Five Islands. She had fond memories and loved going to Reid State long before it became a state park.

She attended schools in Locke Mills and graduated from Gould Academy in 1961. She attended Aroostook State Teachers College in Presque Isle.

Deciding it was more important to be married than complete school, she married Robert A. Coolidge in September 1963. They became parents of three children, Robert David, Lee-Ann Doris and Bethany Dawn.

She and her husband owned and ran Bob's Corner Store in Greenwood for 27 years, until they decided to retire in 2001.

In 1964, she ran the town office and became tax collector for Greenwood, a position she held and loved until they went to town managership. Over the years, for the town, she became tax collector, treasurer, then town clerk and registrar of voters.

Phyllis and her deputy, Denise Swan, talked the town into becoming computerized. Greenwood was one of the first towns in the area to do so.

Over the years, she did many things: she ran the 4-H Club in town for several years, ran the church youth group and organized and helped the Locke Mills Union Church print a community cookbook.

Phyllis was a charter member of the Greenwood Historical Society. She worked on taking and gathering pictures for and helped organize the pictorial history of Greenwood from 1816 to 1960.

In 2003, Phyllis, Robert and her eldest granddaughter, Rose, dog "Curly," and two cats, "Abby" and "Butterscotch," took a road trip to Alaska. On the way back, they visited many national parks. She always felt very fortunate to have completed this trip as well as having visited England, France, Spain and Ireland.

Phyllis also felt very fortunate to have been able to host an exchange student, "Hege" from Oslo, Norway, for a year.

She leaves her husband, Robert; two daughters, Lee-Ann and husband Richard Wright of Bethel, and Bethany and husband Steve Pelletier of Hanover; five beautiful grandchildren, Rose, Thomas and Sarahanne Wright, and Alice and Forest Pelletier; and a brother, Glendon Kimball. Her dog Curly, and her beloved cats. Her mother, Jeanette Kimball; and many aunts, uncles and cousins. She was predeceased by her son, David; her father, C. Mellen; and her sister, Elaine Henley. She will be missed by many.

Memorial services were held at the East Bethel Church on Wednesday, Aug. 2. Burial followed in the East Bethel Cemetery. Phyllis had two foundations to which she contributed regularly, and would want contributions to be made in her memory to either the American Diabetes Association, P.O. Box 1131, Fairfax, VA 22038-1131, or to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

HERBERT W. DURANT JR.

Herbert W. Durant Jr., 59, of Waterford left us on July 30, 2006 at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

"Skip" was born on Feb. 9, 1947, the son of Herbert W. Durant and Hazel Proctor Durant. He attended schools in North Waterford, Waterford and four years at Gould Academy.

He served his country for three years in the U.S. Army security agency in this country and Southeast Asia. He learned building from his father and did that until 1981, in which time he worked on some woods crews for a few years. He then painted houses until poor health in 2004 had him retire. He loved the outdoors, fishing and especially hunting.

At the request of Mr. Durant there will be no services. Remembrance donations can be sent to Stoneham Rescue, P.O. Box 42, Stoneham, ME 04231. Online condolences may be shared with the family at www.westonchandler.com.

Card of Thanks

I want to thank everyone for the cards, phone calls, and prayers while I was in the hospital and recovering in Boston.

I especially want to thank my wife and children for everything they have done. Thank you to Ken and Shari for all the driving to and from Boston. Thank you to Beth Anne for being at home to take care of things, and thanks to Joseph for being with us in Boston.

Thank you to the Brainards and Allen and Helen Young for watching the house and taking care of the pets when no one was home.

Thank you to the extended families, and all the friends for all the thoughts and prayers

Thank you,
John Haines

Native American Prayer

I give you this one thought to keep
I am with you still - I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow,
I am the diamond glints on snow,
I am the sunlight on ripened grain,
I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush,
I am the swift, uplifting rush of quiet birds in circled flight.
I am the soft stars that shine at night.
Do not think of me as gone --
I am with you still -- in each new dawn.

Missing You Always,
Your Family & All Your Friends
